

EPISODE 1: Elliot the Invincible

In this very first episode, "Coach" Warner sends the Good Sports on a very special mission. In the small town of FairField, a young boy named Elliot is feeling like a loser because he believes that when it comes to sports, he doesn't measure up to the rest of the kids. What Elliot doesn't know is that everyone has a unique God-given talent, and with the help of the Good Sports Gang™ he'll discover that he is about to go from Elliot the Unable to Elliot the Invincible!

EPISODE 2: Together We're Better

The big parade is only two days away and everyone for miles around is working hard to build the most fabulous float of all. The FairField kids have lots of great ideas, but for some reason they can't get their act together. As the Good Sports investigate the scene, they discover the kids are building three floats instead of one. Qubee knows that the solution is to get the kids to work together on one grand float, but the mission is not as simple as it seems when he discovers his own Good Sports have forgotten what teamwork is all about as well.
